Three city girls drown in swimming pool at Mangaluru

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (MTY&VNS)- What was meant to be a memorable holiday turned into a tragedy for the families of three girls from the city, who drowned in a swimming pool at a private resort in Mangaluru this morning.

Nishitha, one of the victims

A CCTV grab showing three girls in the swimming pool.

The deceased have been identified as M.D. Nishitha (21), daughter of Mallesh, a resident of Door No. 89, 4th Cross, Kurubarahalli; S. Parvathi (20), daughter of M.S. Srinivas, a resident of Door No. 89, 11th Cross, Ramanuja Road and Keerthana (21), daughter of S. Naveen Kumar, a resident of Door No. 2645, 2nd Cross, Hebbal 2nd Stage, Devaraja Mohalla.

According to the Police, the three girls, who were close friends, had checked into Vazco Beach Resort in Uchila, near Someshwara, on Saturday. The resort is situated at Battappadi Cross Road, Peribail in Someshwara village.

After an overnight stay, they ventured into the swimming pool at around 8:30 am, where the tragedy occurred. Prior to entering the pool, the girls are said to have set their phones to video recording mode to capture moments of their fun.

CCTV footage reveals that initially, the girls were in high spirits. However, one of them, who had been playing in the shallow end, suddenly ventured into the deeper part of the pool and began to drown. Seeing her struggle, the other two girls rushed to her aid, only to be pulled under themselves, resulting in all three girls drowning.

The Police said that, based on the mobile phone recordings and CCTV footage, it appeared that the girls were not proficient swimmers, which led to the tragic incident. The footage has been retrieved for further investigation.

The incident came to light when resort staff noticed the girls had not returned to their rooms for an extended period. Upon searching for them, they discovered the bodies of the three girls floating in the pool.

MUDA 50:50 site scam

Ex-Commissioner Dr. D.B. Natesh to face Lokayukta questioning

But Government silent on investigating another ex-MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar

Dinesh Kumar Dr. Natesh

Bengaluru, Nov. 17 (KMS & BCT)- The State Government has officially granted permission to prosecute senior KAS Officer and former Commissioner of Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), Dr. D.B. Natesh, in connection with the controversial allocation of 14 sites to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife, B.M. Parvathi.

The Mysuru Lokayukta Police had requested approval from the Chief Secretary to investigate both Dr. Natesh and G.T. Dinesh Kumar, who succeeded him as MUDA Commissioner.

The investigation, led by Mysuru Lokayukta SP T.J. Udesh, pertains to allocating sites under the 50:50 ratio scheme. The 14 sites in question were allocated in Vijayanagar's Third and Fourth Stages as compensation for Parvathi's 3.16-acre property at Survey Number 464 in Kesare, which she had received as a gift from her brother, B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy.

After three weeks of deliberation, the Chief Secretary approved the prosecution of Dr. Natesh under the Department of Personnel Administrative Reforms Service Rules. However, the State Government's delay in permitting the investigation of former Commissioner Dinesh Kumar — noted for his key role in allocating hundreds of sites — has drawn significant attention and sparked discussion.

With the granted approval, Lokayukta Police now have the authority to interrogate Dr. Natesh and potentially file a criminal case or proceed with an arrest if necessary. Dr. Natesh faces allegations of substantial corruption in the reallocation process of these sites.

Following the green light from the Govt., SP Udesh promptly issued a notice summoning Dr. Natesh for questioning.

The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has already summoned Dr. Natesh three times for questioning in their office, subsequently releasing him after each session. Notably, the ED had previously raided Dr. Natesh's residence in Bengaluru as well as his office, seizing numerous documents relevant to their investigation.

MUDA and private layouts under MCC purview soon

Handover process begins; 200 layouts to be transferred from MUDA to MCC first

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (BLU&BCT)- The long-awaited transformation has begun for MUDA and private layouts on the outskirts of Mysuru, which had struggled without basic infrastructure like drinking water, streetlights and roads. Process of transferring these layouts to MCC and respective local bodies has started.

Hundreds of such layouts across Mysuru lacked essential amenities. While some fall under MCC jurisdiction, others are managed by City Municipal Councils (CMC), Town Panchayats (TP) and Gram Panchayats (GP). Residents of these layouts had repeatedly appealed to MUDA for basic services, property documentation and tax payment guidance. MUDA dismissed their requests, claiming the areas weren't under its jurisdiction and directing them to the nearby CMC, TPs or GPs.

'Process of handing over to complete soon'

The process of handing over to local bodies was initiated 15 days ago. Henceforth, all layouts in Mysuru will come under the jurisdiction of the respective local bodies. This process is expected to be completed in a few days.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

VIDHI IS POWERFUL: Through the many characters in the Mahabharata, we get an idea of the power of destiny, said P.T. Seshadri in a discourse. The Kurukshetra war is about to begin. The two opposing armies have arrived on the battlefield. Lord Krishna's brother Balarama takes a look at the thousands of soldiers waiting to fight, not knowing whether they will survive the war. Balarama is saddened by what he sees, and remarks, "For the mistakes of a few, so many are going to pay with their lives. What is this if it is not the work of destiny (vidhi)?" he wonders.

Karna says he can single-handedly kill the Pandavas. But his strength will not be the deciding factor, for even his strength is under the control of destiny. Karna acknowledges that it is vidhi which will decide the outcome of the war. Later, in the Bhishma Parva, Karna falls to Arjuna's arrow. Bhishma sees him lying fatally wounded, and says that none can change vidhi. In the Mausala Parva, the Krishna avatara has ended, and Arjuna comes to Vyasa. He says to the sage that with Krishna's departure from the world, he (Arjuna) has lost everything. Vyasa says, "When it is time for a man to get wealth, his intellect works in a way that will get him riches. He acquires tejas. He is able to anticipate what his future will be like. When it is Bhagavan's plan that we should get something, circumstances become favourable to us. But the same man may become poor. When it is time for him to lose his wealth, his intellect no longer works the way it did. He loses his tejas and his jnana about the future. So wealth comes to us only through God's anugraha. A man, who is very strong, can become weak. This too is entirely due to God's will." — In The Hindu

Four held for faking bear attacks

California: Four Los Angeles-area residents were recently arrested and charged with insurance fraud after allegedly using a bear suit to make it seem like their luxury vehicles had been damaged by a wild animal. This insurance fraud scheme, began in January of this year, when the four suspects claimed that a bear had entered their 2010 Rolls Royce Ghost and caused extensive interior damage. But the video footage supplied to the insurer by the suspects was more than a little shady. The California Department of Fish and Wildlife says that the bears in the State are black bears and this was light brown, but its movements weren't very bear-like either.

California Police executed a search warrant at the four suspects' home and found a bear costume complete with a furry head, paws and metal tools in the shape of claws used to produce the damage. The case is currently under review, but if found guilty, the four suspects risk spending time behind bars for defrauding companies out of nearly 1,42,000 dollars.

12 robots 'kidnapped' by another robot

Shangai: For the past week, social media has been abuzz about an incident that reportedly occurred back in August at a robotics company showroom in Shanghai, but was only made public recently. Footage captured by surveillance cameras shows a small robot making its way into the showroom at night and slowly rolling over to a bunch of larger robots before engaging in a dialogue with them. The little robot manages to somehow persuade two of the other robots to "come home" with it and then the remaining 10 robots follow them. In the beginning, the video was deemed staged, but the company admitted that its robots had indeed been "kidnapped" by a robot created by another manufacturer.

Yes, Justice System is Breaking Down

Act today, tomorrow it may be too late

Sir,

This refers to K.B. Ganapathy's Abracadabra titled "Time for Judicial Reform in a Big Way" (SOM dated Nov. 14) about the broken judiciary and I would like to add the following to what was said in that article.

Justice system is breaking at the seams. Justice delayed is justice denied. Once the cases go to Courts, it takes six to seven years for cases before the High Courts to get decided.

Major reason is Judge to the population ratio. In 2024, the Law Minister informed in the Lok Sabha that there are only 21 Judges per million population as against 50 Judges recommended by the Law Commission. Also, vacant posts are not being filled.

Of the sanctioned strength of 1,114 Judges for High Courts, present strength is 770. Cases pending before the Supreme Court is over 80,000 and the High Courts is 5.1 crore.

As per NITI Aayog, it will take 324 years to clear the backlog. Even under Income Tax Act, 4.92 lakh cases are pending before CIT (Commissioner of Income Tax) Appeals, 88,000 cases before ITAT (Income Tax Appellate Tribunal), 42,000 cases before the High Courts and 5,272 cases before the Supreme Court. More than Rs. 10 lakh crore is held up in tax disputes. Yes, judicial system needs a reform in a big way. Act today, tomorrow it may be too late.

Irresponsible tourist stunts endanger lives at Irupu Falls

Madikeri, Nov. 17 (PS&BCT)- Irupu Waterfalls, located near Srimangala in Ponnampet Taluk of Kodagu District and renowned as a picturesque spot in South Kodagu, is becoming the stage for increasingly irresponsible behaviour by tourists, raising serious safety and environmental concerns.

Visitors have been observed engaging in continuous fun and frolic by venturing to the dangerous base of the waterfall where the powerful cascade meets the ground, risking their lives in the process.

Despite clear warnings and restricted entry to the bottom of the waterfall — which is fed by the Lakshmanatheertha River flowing through the verdant Brahmagiri slopes — tourists are ignoring safety measures.

Reports indicate they are performing risky stunts, such as climbing slippery, algae-covered rocks and taking selfies perilously close to the falling water, further heightening the risk of accidents.

The waterfall, which plunges from hundreds of feet, creates a deep and treacherous pool at the bottom, yet tourists have shown little concern as they enter the water, posing serious questions about safety compliance.

Adding to the issue is the shortage of staff and ineffective enforcement by the Forest Department. Although a gate has been installed to restrict access to the base of the waterfall, visitors have been seen bypassing it with ease.

The situation is exacerbated by tourists consuming snacks and eatables and carelessly discarding food waste like plastic wrappers and water bottles, thereby littering the pristine area.

Allegations have surfaced suggesting that Forest Department staff may be permitting tourists inside without thorough checks at the gate. Signboards urging visitors to maintain cleanliness have also proven ineffective.

Without stricter monitoring and robust action by the Forest Department, the combination of reckless behaviour and inadequate safety measures could result in tragic incidents.

Local residents said that immediate steps are needed to address these lapses before an adventure at Irupu Waterfalls turns fatal. Enhanced staffing, stricter entry regulations and effective visitor management are critical to safeguard lives and preserve the natural beauty of this destination.

Foreign tourists footfall to Mysore Palace

Hike in entry ticket price has no effect

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (PM&VNS)- The hike in entry ticket price by tenfold for foreign tourists at Mysore Palace has not affected the Mysore Palace Board as it has recorded increase in footfall, especially foreign tourists, which has doubled since the increase in entry ticket price. The Mysore Palace Board had recently increased the ticket price from Rs. 100 to Rs. 1,000 for the foreign tourists.

It was also said that, the Mysore Palace would witness decrease in foreign tourists' footfall because of the steep hike in ticket price. However, it has been exactly opposite with a total of 952 foreigners visiting the Mysore Palace from Oct. 25 to Oct. 31, while only 634 foreigners has visited the Palace in the same period last year. The number of visitors had dropped to 310 during COVID pandemic in 2022.

In the first week of November this year, a total of 899 foreign tourists have visited the Palace while their numbers were 781 in 2023 and 389 in 2022. The Palace Board along with increasing the ticket prices also inaugurated the cloak room, slipper stand and toilet facilities inside the Palace complex.

The hike in Palace ticket price, especially for the foreign tourists, was criticised by various organisations associated with tourism industry.

In fact, they were wary about the possibilities of foreign tourists refraining from having Palace on their itinerary owing to price hike. However this has proved wrong. Despite this, one of city's tour operators, who wished not to be named, expressed that it would be wise to reduce the price to Rs. 500 to avoid any adverse effect in the future.

> Despite the increase in entry ticket price, the number of foreign tourists visiting the Mysore Palace has increased compared to two previous years. None of the foreign tourists have expressed their opinion to either reduce the entry ticket price. Meanwhile, the number of foreign tourists visiting the Palace has increased.

Liquor Merchants Society opposed to Liquor Bandh on Nov. 20

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (SBD&DM)- The Karnataka State Liquor Merchants Development Co-operative Society has opposed the Statewide Liquor Bandh called by the Federation of Wine Merchants Associations on Nov. 20.

Addressing a press meet here on Friday, Society President S. Chandrashekar said that the Society has already said in Bengaluru that it would not support the Nov. 20 bandh.

Pointing out that a 5-point charter of demands of Excise License holders has been submitted to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Nov.11, Chandrashekar said the CM has responded positively to the demands.

Maintaining that liquor stores in Mysuru and Chamarajanagar districts will be open as usual on Nov. 20, he warned that a complaint would be lodged with the Police if anyone attempts to disturb business on Nov. 20.

Noting that similar meetings will be held across the State to oppose the Nov. 20 bandh call, he claimed that the Federation of Wine Merchants led by S. Guruswamy, had ceased to function after it was formed in 2002-03 and as such had become non-existent. Chandrashekar said that the Rs.700 crore corruption charges in the Excise Department involving officials and the Excise Minister, which is making a loud noise in Maharashtra poll campaigns, was totally false.

Former Corporator Devaraju, who is also an Excise License holder, Society Vice-President M.C. Doddanayaka, office-bearers Hanumanthegowda, Krishnappa, C.G. Gangadhar, Srinivas, Gururaj, Chennakeshava and others were present.

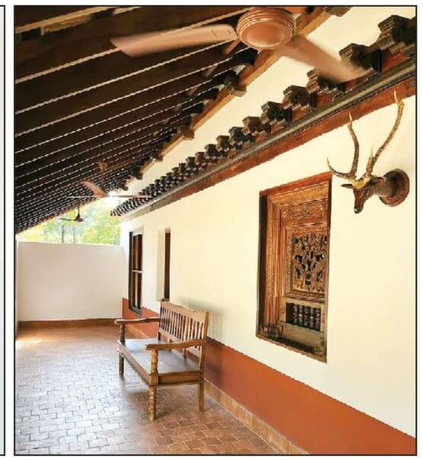
A Kodava ancestral house in Chennai

Traditional Kodava Ain Mane built in 1852 by Kodira family restored at DakshinaChitra Museum

The original Kodira family Ain Mane at Koppa village (Arapattu) before demolition.

The same house has been rebuilt at DakshinaChitra Museum with the same wooden materials.



All aspects of the heritage home have been kept intact.

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (BCT)- A traditional Kodava Ain Mane (ancestral house) has been restored and inaugurated at the DakshinaChitra Museum, a living-history project by the Madras Craft Foundation. This initiative aims to preserve and showcase the rich heritage of the Kodava community. The house originally belonged to the Kodira Kodava family from Arapattu village in Kodagu, dating back to 1852. While the main Kodira Ain Mane remains well-maintained, a second ancestral house built in Koppa, Arapattu, was demolished and replaced by the family.

The wooden components from this demolished house have been re-purposed and incorporated into the new Kodava house at DakshinaChitra Museum, located on East Coast Road, Muttukadu, Chengalpet district, Tamil Nadu.

Original character preserved

The project, which began in 2022, focused on preserving the original structure and character of the ancestral house without alterations. The actual reconstruction at DakshinaChitra commenced in June 2023 and was officially opened to the public on Oct. 23.

The house is now an exhibit at the sprawling museum, adorned with displays showcasing the vibrant Kodava culture. This house highlights the rich Kodava culture, including the community's customs, traditions, rituals, folk practices, unique attire, cuisine and their deep connection with nature and wildlife. The Kodava House is the latest addition to the living heritage space at DakshinaChitra, showcasing the lifestyle of the Kodava community from the Western Ghats of Karnataka. This marks the 19th ancestral house at the museum, adding to the existing 18 structures that celebrate diverse traditions.

Rathi Vinay Jha, Life Trustee of DakshinaChitra Museum, inaugurating the heritage Kodava house as guests and representatives from Mobis team look on. Pic. right shows the members of Kodira family who visited Chennai for the inauguration.

Rathi Vinay Jha, from Codanda family, former Secretary of Union Tourism Department, Founder-Member of the Sandooka Museum Trust and Life Trustee of DakshinaChitra Museum (Madras Craft Foundation) headed the Kodava Ain Mane project.

She is the sister of Codanda G. Somiah, who served as the eighth Comptroller and Auditor General of India and was known for his honesty and impeccable career record.

Documented in detail

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Rathi Vinay Jha said that with a deep connection to the land, the wooden parts of the Kodira Kodava House were meticulously documented. "Every part was numbered, photographed, and drawn to scale before being carefully dismantled by local experts who understand the materials and construction techniques. The pieces were then transported and reassembled at DakshinaChitra in the same precise manner," she added.

Kodagu lies nestled in the Western Ghats, renowned for its lush, forested landscapes and mountainous terrain and the Kodavas have been long-time guardians of the region, preserving its wildlife and biodiversity for centuries. In recognition of this heritage, a dedicated Western Ghats exhibition inside the Ain Mane emphasises the global importance of conserving these vital biodiversity hotspots, she noted.

Rathi Vinay Jha further added, "The Sandooka Living Museum served as a knowledge bank for this exhibit. All photos, videos, and edited texts were sourced from https://sandookamuseum.org/. This allowed us to save considerable time and resources in the construction, design and other key aspects of the Ain Mane, thanks to the readily available materials from Sandooka." The Kodava Ain Mane at the DakshinaChitra Museum has been meticulously curated by Gigi Scaria, while the accompanying Western Ghats exhibition was curated by Shekar Dattatri and Saravana Kumar. The construction and exhibition of the Kodava house has been fully supported by the Mobis India Foundation, the CSR arm of Hyundai Mobis.

Cultural show

Following the Ain Mane inauguration, visitors enjoyed a tour of the museum, concluding with vibrant Kodava dance performances by teams from Bengaluru Kodava Samaja and Connecting Kodavas. Over 60 members of Kodava Samaja, Chennai, were in attendance, along with about 15 members of the Kodira family who travelled from Kodagu for the event.

Prominent speakers, including Rathi Vinay Jha, Palengada Amit and Kelappanda Praveen Aiyanna, addressed the audience, sharing insights into Kodava customs, practices and the community's nature-loving traditions. Deborah Thiagarajan, President of the Madras Craft Foundation, also spoke.

Ju Seong Kyu, Managing Director of Mobis India Foundation, presided over the inaugural event, accompanied by Lee Chang Jun, Head of the CSV Strategy Team from Mobis HQ, and Kim Kyung Jin from the CSV Strategy Team. Also present were Sharath Nambiar, Director of DakshinaChitra Museum and other guests from the Mobis team.

How there was official lapse only in CM Siddaramaiah's MUDA case?

Snehamayi Krishna alleges Siddaramaiah leveraged his position as CM, Dy.CM to benefit his family

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (BLU&DM)- With Mysuru Lokayukta SP T.J. Udesh submitting the preliminary status report to Lokayukta IGP A. Subramanyeshwara Rao on the investigation into MUDA's allocation of 14 sites to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife, B.M. Parvathi, RTI activist Snehamayi Krishna has raised questions about why there is an alleged official lapse only in the case involving CM Siddaramaiah.

Krishna

Speaking to the media at the Lokayukta Office on Saturday, Krishna referred to a report by Star of Mysore on the submission of the preliminary status report.

The report claimed there was no evidence on CM Siddaramaiah's involvement in the alleged scam. Krishna pointed out that MUDA has been involved in many site allotments, questioning why the officials would be faulted only in Siddaramaiah's case, if there were no lapses in other allotments.

Documentary evidence

"It has been learned that the Lokayukta Police have not found any evidence against CM Siddaramaiah in the MUDA scam. However, I have obtained documents proving his involvement. I have submitted a 36-page document to the Lokayukta as evidence of the CM's role in the scam," Krishna said.

Arguing that using one's influence while in power is also unlawful, Krishna emphasised that the 36-page document he submitted outlines how Siddaramaiah leveraged his position as Chief Minister and Deputy CM. He added that if the Lokayukta Police report mentions no direct role of the CM, it inadvertently acknowledges his involvement in the case.

Krishna further stated that if the Lokayukta submits a 'B report' in the case, he would present his documents to the Court. He also noted that the next hearing in the case seeking a CBI probe into the MUDA scam is scheduled for Nov. 26, where he intends to argue for handing over the case to the CBI.

"I will not let Siddaramaiah escape punishment"

Responding to KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana filing a case against him at the Lakshmipuram Police Station, Krishna stated that he would not be deterred, even if Lakshmana filed 20 cases against him.

Lakshmana had reportedly stated that there were 44 cases against Krishna, but Krishna clarified that there were only 23 cases against him. With two additional cases filed by Lakshmana, the total number of cases against him has risen to 25.

Krishna asserted that he would not be intimidated by the number of cases and vowed to continue his fight against CM Siddaramaiah until justice was served.

"It is because of my efforts that the deals of CM Siddaramaiah and his family members have come to light. The CM's wife only returned the 14 sites allotted to her out of fear of a probe," he said.

Expressing his frustration over Lakshmana's complaint seeking his externment from the district, Krishna questioned whether there were no senior Congress leaders who could demand Lakshmana's expulsion from the party for targeting a social activist who was fighting for a societal cause.

Not responsible If my statement is misconstrued: GTD

Mangaluru, Nov. 17 (BS)- Chamundeshwari MLA and JD(S) State Core Committee Chairman G.T. Devegowda (GTD) has said "I am not responsible if anyone takes me wrong. I didn't go for campaigning for the recently concluded by-election to Channapatna Constituency, as I was not invited by anybody."

G.T. Devegowda

Speaking to media persons here on Saturday, Gowda asked, what wrong have I committed in Chamundi Hill? The Congress leaders are seeking the resignation of Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel H.D. Kumaraswamy, while the JD(S) and BJP leaders are demanding the resignation of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. Besides, a First Information Report (FIR) has been filed against the Opposition Leader in Legislative Assembly R. Ashok, demanding his arrest also, said GTD.

"Similarly, FIRs have been filed against several MLAs, Central and State leaders. However, the mere filing of FIR is not the ground to declare them as guilty and to press for their resignation. If that is the reason for upping the ante, everybody, whose name is mentioned in the FIR should submit their resignation. I spoke on these lines. What can I do, if my opinion was misconstrued," asserted GTD.

Continuing, GTD said, he was on tour as the State Core Committee chief, when Kumaraswamy himself conducted the meeting of the Core Committee and elected the JD(S) Legislature Party (JDLP) leader. Subsequently, JDLP Leader Suresh Babu and State Youth President of the party Nikhil Kumaraswamy came to Mysuru for the party's membership enrolment drive.

"I also participated in the membership enrolment drive, on the invitation of Nikhil Kumaraswamy over phone. While addressing the programme, former MLA S.R. Mahesh said, he will be vested with power henceforth to issue B-Form, neither the party supremo H.D. Deve Gowda nor H.D. Kumaraswamy. However, Nikhil Kumaraswamy cleared the air saying that Mahesh spoke in haste and also apologised on his behalf," said GTD.

GTD said "Despite being a Core Committee President, my name was dropped from the list of 40 star campaigners during the by-election. No leaders including Nikhil, H.D. Deve Gowda, H.D. Kumaraswamy and Anitha Kumaraswamy invited me for the campaign. Hence I didn't go for campaigning and also not aware about the possibilities of the outcome."

'Wrong to call all sites as illegal'

Bengaluru, Nov. 17 (Agencies)- JD(S) MLA G.T. Devegowda has said, he has no qualms over withdrawing any sites illegally allotted by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), but it was wrong to describe it illegal even those sites allotted as per the rules.

Calling RTI activist Snehamayi Krishna, the complainant in MUDA site scam as intelligent and strong person, Devegowda said, however it is not correct to treat all on the same lines disseminating wrong information to the people.

Congress demands arrest of RTI activist Snehamayi Krishna

KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana, City Congress President R. Murthy, Rural Committee President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar and others seen after lodging a complaint against RTI activist Snehamayi Krishna yesterday.

Mysuru, Nov. 17 (MTY&BS)- A delegation of Congress leaders filed a complaint against Right to Information (RTI) activist Snehamayi Krishna at Lakshmipuram Police Station in city yesterday, calling for his arrest under the Goonda Act and his externment from the district.

Speaking to media persons after filing the complaint, KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana accused Krishna of blackmailing individuals involved in property disputes and is now targeting influential people and officials.

"I was at the Institution of Engineers India (IEI) Office on June 16 when two of Krishna's associates threatened my life. Krishna faces 17 cases across various Police Stations in the city, along with multiple cases in other parts of the State," Lakshmana claimed.

"He is a known rowdy-sheeter who even demanded money through his associates, alleging that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife, Parvathi, had been allotted 14 sites by MUDA. When his demand was rejected, he forged documents and submitted them to investigative agencies," said Lakshmana.

Protest postponed

In a related development, the Congress party's planned protest in front of Lakshmipuram Police Station, demanding Krishna's externment, has been postponed due to unavoidable circumstances, according to a communiqué from the party.

Meanwhile, Snehamayi Krishna wonders how there was official lapse only in Siddaramaiah case.

Layouts under MCC purview soon

However, when residents turned to local body officials, they were told the layouts were not yet under their responsibility as MUDA was yet to formally hand-over the management and were sent back to MUDA. This left residents of hundreds of layouts in confusion and helplessness.

With no clarity on property registration or tax payment, some private developers sold plots without providing essential infrastructure and shirked responsibility.

In response, residents appealed to the District Administration, expressing their willingness to pay taxes and requesting basic services. This led to the start of the process of transferring MUDA and private layouts to local bodies.

This shift brings relief to many residents who had long been without property registration, tax clarity or essential services. It also fulfils a long-standing demand.

The transfer process, which began 15 days ago, is expected to conclude soon. Once completed, it allows residents to register properties and pay taxes.

The tax revenue will enable local bodies to provide much-needed infrastructure, including drinking water, roads, streetlights and underground drainage systems.

'200 layouts to be transferred in phases'

Seventeen layouts developed by MUDA and 200 private layouts are being transferred in phases. The remaining 600+ layouts in Mysuru city will be completely handed over to the respective local bodies within a month. From now on, these local bodies will handle activities such as property registration, tax collection and other administrative responsibilities. They will also bear the responsibility for providing and maintaining basic facilities in these layouts. MUDA will continue to oversee the construction of new layouts and grant approvals for private developments. This move is aimed at ensuring the systematic development of Mysuru city.

—A.N. Raghunandan, MUDA Commissioner

'Officials will conduct site inspections'

Currently, we are in the process of taking over three MUDA layouts and five private layouts within Mysuru city under the jurisdiction of the MCC. Our officials will conduct site inspections and gather comprehensive details. Priority will be given to layouts with existing basic infrastructure such as roads. Subsequently, other layouts will be taken over in phases. For now, the layouts will be taken over in their present condition. A decision regarding the provision of basic facilities for these layouts will be made in the coming days.

—Ashaad-Ur-Rehman Shariff, MCC Commissioner

Beggar 'flees' with girl child after luring its mother

Chamarajanagar, Nov. 17 (BS)-

A beggar woman has allegedly abducted a two-and-a-half-year old girl child, after befriending its mother.

Anitha, aged 28 years and a native of Ramanagara, is that unfortunate mother, who has lodged a complaint at Chamarajanagar Town Police Station.

Anitha, along with her child, had come to M.M. Hills in the district three to four days ago, without informing her family members. During the course of journey, a beggar woman lured Anitha of making a windfall by seeking alms along with the kid.

The duo stayed near the Open Air Theatre at M.M. Hills and the beggar, who went around the shrine, carrying the kid in her arms, also split the money she got through begging with Anitha.

On Friday, both came to Nanjangud from Chamarajanagar. She asked Anitha to wait near the temple and went around begging along with the kid and shared a bit of money with her.

Upon coming to Chamarajanagar town, she deployed the same modus operandi at KSRTC bus stand in the town, only not to return. The images of the beggar woman holding the kid in her arms, have been captured on the CCTV cameras installed in the bus stand and shops in front of Chamarajeshwara Park.

Following a complaint by Anitha, the abducted kid's mother, Police have launched a search for the duo — beggar woman and the kid.

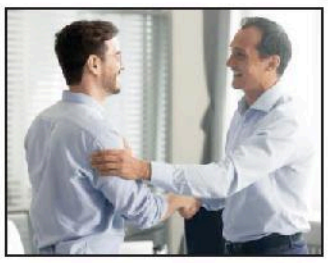
WORD OF THE DAY

Cachet



Pronunciation: ka-SHAY (Noun)
Meaning: Cachet is used as a synonym of prestige to refer to the respect and admiration someone or something receives for being successful or important. It can also be used to refer to a characteristic feature or quality that confers such prestige.
Origin: If you're looking for a catchy word to add to your vocabulary, why not give your stamp of approval to cachet? After all, this term is borrowed directly from French, a language which has long held a certain cachet in English (formal- and fancy-sounding English words often have a French pedigree — evidence of the prestige bestowed on the language). In French, cachet — which comes from the Middle French verb cacher meaning "to press" — refers to an official seal pressed into soft wax and used on formal and legal documents. The "seal" sense of cachet has been used in English since the 17th century, and in the 19th century the word started acquiring its extended senses, first referring to a feature or quality conferring prestige, and by century's end to prestige itself.
Example: "This 175-year-old real-life castle in Northern Ireland has real historical cachet." — Abby Montanez, Robb Report, 24 Sept. 2024

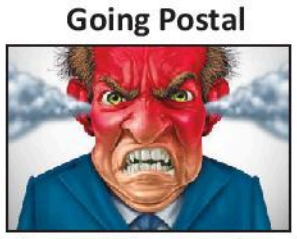
THE ODD WORD

Barophobia

Fear of gravity.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Going Postal



Meaning: 'Going Postal' means to become extremely angry, often to point of rage and violence, especially when provoked in a workplace setting.
Origin: The origin of the phrase derives from a series of incidents involving U.S. Postal workers, who shot and killed fellow workers and members of the public in 1986. The first recorded use was in an article by Karl Vick's 'Violence at work tied to loss of esteem', published on December 17th 1993 in the St. Petersburg Times: "The symposium was sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service, which has seen so many outbursts that in some circles excessive stress is known as 'going postal'.
Example: "Did you hear that Mark went postal yesterday at the office, after his manager told him that Jane's getting the promotion he was promised."
